Responsibility for Disorders in Ireland Placed Upon British Government by American Investigators

REPORT MADE PUBLIC TODAY

British Army Guilty of Excesses Equal to That Charged Against Germans

Innocent Men, Women and Children Proved to Have Been Killed and Tortured

Wanton Destruction of Factories and Cities Countenanced by Authorities

All Laws of Peace and War Violated by Crown Forces of 78,000 Men

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Moral responsibility for the present disorders in Ireland is placed upon the British government by the commission of the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question in a 30,000-word report made public today and covering the examination of witnesses at public hearings held by the commission in Washington last November, December and January.

The report has been issued under the title of "The American Commission on Conditions in Ireland," which announces that it will continue the inquiry.

Declaring that the commission was "under the disadvantage of lacking the official British side of the case," except as it was gathered from documents presented to it, the report declares that "the Imperial British army in Ireland has been guilty of proved excesses, not incommensurable in degree and kind with those alleged by the Bryce report, on Belgium atrocities, to have been committed by the Imperial German army." The Bryce commission, it is pointed out, was similarly handicapped.

Thirty-eight witnesses of alleged atrocities including 15 Irish, 15 American and two English citizens, testified before the commission. The commission admits that its report is ex parte in spite of its efforts to hear all sides. The testimony available, the report

SUIT TO RECOVER MORE THAN $3,000,000

A suit for the recovery of millions of dollars' worth of land located in Fraserville and surrounding towns in the province of Quebec will be started tomorrow at the land court in Quebec in behalf of descendants of the late Count Francois Keroach, some of whom reside in Nashua, N. H. and Lowell. It is said that the amount involved in the suit is more than $3,000,000, and that the proceedings are against the town of Fraserville and the province of Quebec.

The court proceedings come down from the old manor of Fraserville, which it is claimed, was originally owned by Count Francois Keroach, a native of Brittany, who landed in Canada in the latter part of the seventeenth century. It is claimed by the complainants that shortly after his arrival in the Dominion the count took up government land rights and developed what is now known as Fraserville and for a great many years or up to the time of his death that he was the seignior of the manor, but that titles and deeds of his ownership disappeared after his death.

A few years ago activities were started to recover the lost documents and a noted lawyer of Quebec took it upon himself to locate the heirs and descendants of the late count and also to prove their rights to the manor with the result that one of the direct descendants of the nobleman was located in Nashua, and has a son living in this city. Court proceedings were started some time ago and it was learned this morning that the case, which has been entered in the land court of Quebec, will open tomorrow.

FOUGHT FIRE AMONG CLOUDS

N. Y. Firemen Battle for Hour Before Subduing Blaze on 31st Floor

Forced to Crawl Along Window Ledges at Dizzy Heights—Reserves Called

NEW YORK, March 31.—Firemen fought among the clouds for more than an hour, early today, before subduing a dangerous blaze on the 31st floor of the towering Equitable building, in the heart of the downtown skyscraper district. It was one of the highest fires the firemen have ever been called upon to fight.

The blaze started in a broker's office and clouds of smoke poured through the upper stories and elevator shafts of the massive structure. The fire was under control before the building's 15,000 inhabitants arrived.

Firemen crawled along narrow window ledges at dizzy heights above the narrow streets in order to smash windows and push through the lines of hose. Thousands of gallons of water poured down elevator shafts and into the corridors.

Police reserves were called out to control crowds on the Broadway side of the building.

It is stated that large numbers of laboring classes of England and France want to emigrate to the United States but are finding it impossible to do so THROUGH EXCESSIVE SAVINGS. Commissioner Murphy Outlines His Program for the Present Season

Council Votes to Borrow $80,000 for Paving and $60,000 for Macadam

Program Includes Permanent Macadam Roadway in First Street

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy made known his paving and macadam program for the season of 1921 to members of the municipal council at their meeting this morning and following his statement the council voted to borrow $80,000 for paving and $60,000 for macadam. Included in the commissioner's macadamizing program is one item of especial interest, the laying of a permanent macadam roadway in First street proper from Simpson street to the Dracut line, replacing the present clayey road that has been a source of criticism by motorists for several years.

The laying of a macadam road along this stretch will insure a smooth thoroughfare demanding no repairs for at least five years, according to City Engineer Stephen Kearney. From Bridge

Object to Secure Opening of Peace Negotiations, Says Report From Belfast

BEELFAST, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Cardinal Logue, the primate of Ireland, has been interviewed by Sir William Goulding and three other southern Irish unionists, with the object, it is understood of securing the opening of peace negotiations between the Irish republican parliament and the British government. The interview took place Tuesday at Dunalk, County Louth.

Sir William Goulding is a prominent Irish railway man, a resident of Dublin. He is chairman of the Great Southern & Western railway of Ireland and of the Irish railway clearing house. He was

MAYOR PRESAGES $30 TAX RATE

A tax rate in the neighborhood of $30 is anticipated for Lowell this year by Mayor Thompson. He sees no reason why the rate should exceed that figure greatly. Although there have been no extensive building operations in Lowell in the past year, nevertheless, he feels that there have been enough, especially in some of the corporations, to warrant several million dollars' increase in valuation, which in turn should operate to keep the tax rate from soaring greatly. Several large garages have been built in the past year and there have been other activities, which while not extensive individually, nevertheless, taken in bulk will represent much additional taxable property. The present rate is $27.20 per $1000.

ANOTHER CALL FOR CASH

City Must Appropriate $6000 as Result of Depreciation in Securities

As a result of depreciation in Boston & Maine and Boston Elevated securities, the city of Lowell will have to appropriate within a few days $6000 to liquidate fully the $150,000 old high school bonds which mature tomorrow. The sinking fund commissioners have made known this fact to members of the city council and at next Tuesday's meeting there will probably be introduced an order appropriating $6000 from the general treasury to make up the deficit.

At the beginning of the year the council appropriated $21,000 to meet just such anticipated deficits in sinking funds and it was thought at that time present when Mayor Thompson called to order at 10.07.

A communication from the license commission, by its clerk John J. Flaherty, was read, giving notice of the recent enactment of a state law having to do with the licensing of lodging houses. Chapter 69 of the Acts of 1921, the act in question, provides that the license commission shall charge such fee, not exceeding $2 per year, as the city council may fix for lodging house licenses.

If the council fixes no fee, none shall be charged. And the license commission asked the council to take whatever action on the matter it deemed proper.

Mayor Thompson said that the letter of the commission put the burden wholly on the municipal council. He thought the license commission, being closely in touch with such matters, should make some definite recommendation as to what course of action it desired.

"On motion of Commissioner Marchand, was voted to lay the communication on the table with the understanding that the clerk of the commission shall appear before the council at its next meeting to give further information as to the wishes of the license board on the matter."

New Machine Authorized

Commissioner Donnelly was authorized to issue a requisition upon the purchasing agent for the purchase of a non-passenger touring car for the general use of the finance department, the cost not to exceed $2000, and that the 1915 model truck can now in the department be traded in.

Mayor Thompson voted against the authorization.

An order passed some time ago, giving permission to the Lowell Electric Light corporation to erect two poles in Mt. Washington street, was rescinded. The company has since introduced a new petition to have the poles placed on the opposite side of the street.

the truth and the life. Lastly, he was the great patriot. He cared not for the ways or the weaknesses of party; but they whom the people chose as president and as legislators were his presiwould he recount this country's glories,

"as land he would exclaim, "where we have authority without despotism—liberty without license."

Archbishop Glennon recalled a dramatic incident that occurred last September at a Catholic gathering in Washington, when a play was presented from some European nationals in regard to the composition of the "American hierarchy."

"After some discussion," the archbishop said, "one of the prelates requested the opinion of the cardinal, who was presiding. The bent figure was suddenly erect; and in a voice vibrant with emotion, he addressed us:
"We are bound in the unity of faith and obedience to the vicar of Christ;
but our church knows nothing of European politicians; and we must neither allow them to lay hands on its fair structure."

Archbishop Glennon's sermon follows.
"Let us now praise men of reason, and our fathers in their generation."
"Such as have borne rule in their demotions, men of great power, and imbued with their wisdom, showing forth in the prophetic dignity of prophets."

"And ruling over his present people

AN IMPORTANT MEASURE

Opinion Requested As To
Constitutionality of Water
Power Development Bill

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, March 31.—An order requesting the opinion of the supreme court as to the constitutionality of the big water power development bill, which has been before the legislature for several years, was offered in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Leonard F. Hardy of Huntington.

The bill provides, in brief, that if an owner of any water power rights fails to develop them to their fullest extent, other owners may organize a corporation and take the rights away from the original owner. If such a corporation is not formed, or if it in turn fails to make the proper development, then the state itself may take the property. Senator Hardy's order, which was referred to the rules committee, was offered after each legislator had received from Edward F. Bragg, owner of a private water power, a letter in which the bill is bitterly denounced. In his letter, Mr. Bragg says:—

"I wish to call your attention to House Bill No. 782, an act for creating reservoirs.

"This act confers on three private individuals, who can qualify by short temporary leases of three small water-power streams, the same great powers of eminent domain as were exercised in creating the Clinton reservoir for the metropolitan water supply. The creation of this reservoir destroyed mills, water powers, whole villages, churches and even cemeteries. The use of eminent domain in that case was proper, because it was done by public bodies for a great public necessity, and for the public good with no private profit.

"In this act there are none of these conditions. Instead of a public body we have three private citizens, who can easily qualify. Instead of public use, we have strictly private use. The improvement company is to dispose of the resulting power with no restrictions. It can easily dispose of it to themselves in the form of another corporation with no limit as to cost, price, or profit.

"Instead of public necessity, there is not even private necessity, for if real honest reservoirs are what is desired, there is every opportunity to make such reservoirs under our present mill acts.

"Instead of public necessity, we have private profit. As the public gets none of the power or other benefits, the benefits are all absolutely private.

"This act is an illegal instrument for the great hydro-electric interests, or other large combinations, to grab the water power of others whenever conditions are such as to show them a profit in doing so.

"If these great powers of eminent domain are to be used in creating reservoirs, they should be used by the state, which should employ experts to decide on the location and size of the reservoirs which would give the greatest uniformity of flow, and greatest amount of developed water power for each drainage basin.

"Private interests will never examine a drainage basin to find the best development of the whole basin. They will regard only their private interest and how their special location is affected. The waterpower of the state can never be properly developed in this individual selfish, mercenary fashion.

"If it should prove on investigation of any drainage basin that it would be profitable to create reservoirs for water-power purposes, the state could do this with greater justice and impartiality for the whole basin, and assess the cost on the beneficiaries in proportion to their benefits far better than any private person or group of persons would do it.

"State construction of these reservoirs would insure the highest efficiency in the use of the stored water, and enable the state to make sure that all the water power developed would be used within the state, for the building up of its own industries.

"At the present time large amounts of Massachusetts water power are being delivered and sold in Rhode Island. While this may be a very good thing for Rhode Island, it would be much better if our own natural resources were used in building up our own industries."

HELD ENTERTAINMENT
IN PARISH HOUSE

Gilbert's immortal Bab ballad, treatment of gentle Alice Brown and her fortunes, was depicted in a miniature melodrama at a clever entertainment held last evening in the parish house of All Souls church. Prior to the pleasant program which was produced, a caterpillar supper was served to the three hundred guests who taxed the capacity of the rooms. A group of young people, members of the congregation, then presented a vaudeville divertissement of their own conception. Novel dances, Mother Goose characters brought to life, shadow pictures, and a burlesque of so-called "Oriental magic," were but a few of the many ingenious turns enjoyed by the audience. Mrs. Charles H. Hobson directed the serving of the supper, with the assistance of several young women members of the church. Mr. Gilmore of the Bon Marche loaned scenery for the vaudeville, which was under the direction of Mrs. Howeth, Miss Harriet Coburn, Miss Edith Erskine, and Miss Josephine Ockington. The following young people became thespians for a night:

Elizabeth Fisher, Isabelle Anlot, Helen Anlot, Harriet Qua, Frederick Fisher, Helen Spaulding, Dorothy Taylor, Wallace Gray, Malcolm Stevens, Frances Mitchell, Marshall Qua, Barbara Brown, Frank Hobson, Henry Levy, Alice Erskine, Cyrus Woodman, Stephen Saville, Katherine Gonnell, Elizabeth Spaulding, Elizabeth Harrison, Geraldine Paron, Elizabeth Whittier, Alice Chase, Eleanor Whittier, Anita Ahlberg, Richard Chase, Eleanor Pitts, Celia Grove, Herbert Chapman, William Taylor, Harry Boardman and John Harvey.

LOWELL MEN ATTEND

A number of Lowell men were present at a dinner last night in the Boston city club, that was a feature of a district conference of New England Rotary clubs, which opened yesterday afternoon and is to end this afternoon. The principal speaker at the dinner was Dr. Frank Crane, who gave a talk on "Work and Service." One of the guests was Peter Snedden, of Portland, Ore., president of the International Rotary clubs.

In the party from Lowell were included the following named: William Mitchell, Alvan Weaver, Fred Church, Jr., Theodore F. Hobson, C. D. A. Grasse, Dr. H. E. Davis, Abel D. Campbell, Walter Emmett, Ernest D. Scribner and Willard Parker.

Attack Police Barracks
CORK, March 31.—(By the Associated Press).—An attack today upon the police barracks at Ross Curbery County Cork, resulted in serious casualties to the occupants. Fourteen of the police are missing and it is believed five were killed.

An official report of the affair says the attack was made by civilians at two o'clock this morning. The front wall of the barracks was blown in by explosives and bombs were thrown into the interior while a heavy rifle fire was maintained on the building.

The police held the barracks until the room in which they were concentrated took fire, when a few escaped by an upper window.

that that amount would be sufficient. New comes the news that $6000 additional will be needed.

The $21,000 already appropriated will, of course, come out of this year's tax levy as it was included in the annual budget. Ordinarily, the additional $6000 would also have to be figured in on the tax levy, but Mayor Thompson feels that there will be a sufficient surplus over the city's anticipated revenue for the year to take care of this deficit and if he has his way, the money will be appropriated from the general treasury and then made up from revenues which were not figured when the budget was compiled.

The holders of the high school bonds which were issued 30 years ago will, of course, get their money tomorrow the minute they present the bonds. This municipal council appropriated $150,000 last week to meet these bonds when they mature, April 1. The sinking fund commissioners will turn over to the city treasurer the greater part of the $150,000, but the daily bill will have to be made up by the city. There is no way out of it. Furthermore, the blame can be placed on nobody in particular. The deficit is merely a result of market conditions.

MOVE TO CUT WAGES OF 26,000

N. Y. Central Asks Authority of R. R. Labor Board to Make Reductions

Regarded as Opening Drive of Trunk Lines to Slash Payrolls

CHICAGO, March 31.—Provisional reduction of the wages of approximately 26,000 unskilled workmen on the New York Central railroad, to be effective April 1st, was asked of the railroad labor board yesterday. Immediate relief from the present rates was sought pending a hearing on permanent reduction later, and at the same time announcement was made that conferences with other classes of labor were in session this week and that reductions in every class of railway employees were being considered.

The unskilled labor dispute came before the board after conferences with employees early this month had failed to reach an agreement on any wage reduction. The case is the first one brought by a carrier and is considered in railroad circles as the first move on the part of the trunk lines to cut their payrolls.

The railroad appeared prepared to

Gave Up Hope and Was Discouraged, Says Worcester Man, Then Cinot Performed a Miracle, He Said

Mr. Alex. Giger of 23 Washington Street, Worcester, Tells His Experience of How the Herbal Tonic CINOT Restored Him After Many Months of Torture—Truth Is Sometimes Stranger Than Fiction

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," says Mr. Giger, "and I guess today I would have been the miserable invalid I was a short time ago if it had not been for my friend, Mr. Cinot, who advised me to buy CINOT and I am mighty thankful I did, as I would not be able to write my endorsement to CINOT if he had not."

"For many months I have suffered with what was called varicose veins, my legs would swell and the veins would stick out in knots and get as big as my finger and the pain was worse than torture, my right foot would swell and the pain would extend to the end of it, I had pains in my back and all the symptoms of kidney trouble. I was really so bad in the morning that I would hold on to the bed with one hand to support myself while I was putting on my clothes, and then it took me a half an hour and to bend was impossible."

submit extensive data on wages in other similar industries and on the cost of living, but the board decided to postpone the present case to the question of immediate reductions.

Railroad representatives then presented a mass of statistics showing the rates paid for similar labor in other industries, and the case was concluded, with a decision expected by the end of the week.

During the testimony of J. Aronson, counsel for the New York Central, A. O. Wharton, labor member of the board, inquired into the proposed reduction and inquired how the unskilled labor class was selected for a cut.

"Other classes of employees who received increases under the wage award last year are being called in to confer regarding wage reductions," Mr. Aronson said. "We are holding conferences with clerical, mechanical and signal employees this week, and are considering reductions for yard service men also."

Up to this time, unskilled labor wage disputes are the only ones which have been brought before the board.

"The railroads have, under the law, the duty of operating efficiently and economically," Mr. Aronson continued. "The management feels that the downward trend of business makes it necessary to submit evidence to this board, asking an adjustment of wages."

Before the railroad testimony was finished, J. M. Jewell, speaking for the employees, made a brief answer to the railroad's request declaring it would be without precedence for the board to acquiesce in the New York Central's request.

"The employees waited 18 months for relief under rapidly increasing costs of living," Mr. Jewell said. "We do not believe the present rates are unjust nor unreasonable and we estimate it would take five years properly to reimburse the employees for the losses sustained during the time they waited for an increase last year."

"The burden of decreased business should not be placed on the lowest paid employee—the common laborer. I think we should keep in mind that when the labor board established these wages, the interstate commerce commission granted rates which would take care of them."

"In our opinion, this business depression is only temporary. If the railroads are granted any relief they should pass on the benefit to those who pay the bill."

Mr. Aronson replied that the cost of living had shown a steady downward trend for nearly a year and that a similar trend in wages of other industries also was noticeable. Traffic rates, he said, could not be determined for any length of time and the present rates were wholly inadequate, he continued.

Reductions of 17 to 31 per cent. were proposed in various classes of unskilled labor on the New York Central and a comparison with common labor in other industries was made by M. A. McClary, statistician for the road. Maintenance of way employees, he said, would be reduced from 45 and 45½ cents an hour to 32 and 35 cents.

The general uniformity character of railroad operation in the United States was cited yesterday by W. J. Luck, consulting economist of the railroad unions in his plea before the railroad labor board for standard working rules.

Directing his testimony particularly against alleged inequalities in treatment, he declared that standard rules were in conformity with what he termed the "substantial unity" of American railroads today.

and then came indigestion and gas on my stomach that would feel as if I had a tight band around my chest with terrible pain.

"I had bought all kinds of medicines and had all kinds of pills, lozenges and bottles in the house, but none of them had given me any relief and at this time came visions of my being a helpless cripple and I met Mr. Crawford and started trying CINOT. I bought a bottle and received but little relief, but Mr. Crawford told me to stick to it and I bought a second one, and then came the surprise of my life. I began to get well and kept on gaining until the pain in my back had disappeared and the veins became normal and the swelling left my feet and legs, the gas left me and I can eat without distress. I work in the Steel Mill by the Circus grounds and missed a car the other night and thought I would wait until another came, then decided to walk, and believe me I was delighted to find that I could walk any distance and walked all the way home which is a mile and a half, with no distress whatsoever and now walk back and forth each day and all of this on four bottles. I will be pleased to confirm this statement to any one who is in search of health."

Cinot is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Dows drug store, Merrimack square, and is for sale at all druggists everywhere.—Adv.

"OLD" ELKS GUESTS OF YOUNG HERD

Members of the Lowell lodge of Elks last evening celebrated their successful participation a year ago in the Salvation Army drive for funds when the members of the two teams from the lodge who solicited funds for the "Salute" enjoyed an excellent banquet in the Elks' rooms in Middle street. The toastmaster for the evening was Mr. Frank McCarthy.

The younger men of the lodge were the hosts of the occasion and the older men the guests, this being the outcome of a wager made at the beginning of the drive when the former said that their team would raise more money than their "agony" brethren. They lost and last evening's supper was their payment of the bet. The affair was thoroughly enjoyable throughout. Mayor Perry D. Thompson spoke entertainingly and a group of young women entertainers from Boston helped to make the evening a merry one. Joseph McGilly of the local lodge and Miss Ethel Gordon, one of the visitors, got a big hand for their old-time step dancing feature.

Albert Edmund Brown led the Elks and their visitors in community singing and remarks were made by Past Grand Deputy John P. Farley and Michael Markham, captain of the winning team. John Campbell was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and John McLean directed the serving. Harvey catered.

CAN RENT SO. COMMON

Attorney for Local Legion

Post Says Park Board Has Authority

In reference to the discussion relative to the refusal of the park board to rent the South common to the local post of the American Legion for a week's carnival around the fourth of July, there is a good deal of misconception. The city solicitor was simply asked whether it would be legal to rent the South common to the legion for such carnival and without going into details, he replied in the negative, basing his opinion upon the length of time specified for the rental.

Commander Powers of the legion has received a letter from William J. White, Esq., quoting the act empowering the park board to rent the South common around the fourth of July, but specifying the day before the fourth on the fourth and the day following. Mr. White's letter, which was written in reply to an inquiry and which is in accord with that of the solicitor, will be of interest to those who have been discussing the whole proposition. It is as follows:

March 29, 1921.
Commander James J. Powers,
Post 57, American Legion,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Commander: At the regular meeting of Post 57, last evening, I was asked for a legal opinion governing the use of the South common for the purpose of an American Legion carnival during the week of July 2 to July 9, 1921. At that time I stated that, in the absence of special legislative enactment, it was illegal for a municipality to let for hire, any portion of a public park that had been acquired by eminent domain or gift, and further stated that in the absence of such enactment, this would be true not only as affecting the legion, but furthermore as affecting the use of the South common for a railway, as it has been used in the past. Upon your request to quote that as my opinion, you will no doubt remember that I declined to give a definite opinion until such time as I could ascertain whether such legislative enactment had ever been made.

more detail, I find that the South common may be used for such purposes and at such times as are permitted by Chapter 477 of the Acts of 1907, as amended by Chapter 321 of the Special Acts of 1917, and being as follows:

"The board of park commissioners of the city of Lowell are hereby authorized and empowered to rent, for purposes of amusement and recreation, in its discretion, annually, upon the fourth of July and Labor day, and the days immediately preceding and following said days, such parts of the South common in said city, as it may deem proper, for the erection and use of booths, tents and such other temporary structures as it may deem fit. Any revenue derived from such rentals shall be paid by said board into the treasury of the city and shall be added and credited to the appropriation for the carrying on of the work of said board."

In view of that permission of the legislature, it would seem that the board of park commissioners has the authority to rent such parts of the South common for the aforementioned purposes as it may see fit, and that this can be done either to a large number of persons, as in the past, or to the American Legion as an organization, for the periods of time allowed by that permission.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM J. WHITE, JR.

Lecturer Says to Turn Learning Into Play

NEW YORK, March 28.—Mrs. Winifred S. Stoner, mother of the child prodigy of the same name, is telling mothers and teachers in lectures here of the "Age of Neglect."

"That's the age between the fourth and fifth year of a child," she says. "It's then that Shakespeare and Homer and Goethe and Latin should be made palatable to a child—but most important of all, mathematics."

"Make mathematics a joy by putting personally into numbers."

"Instead of making a pentagon just a pentagon, put hair and teeth and eyes into the picture of him, give him a front name like 'Robert' and immediately the child will conceive a great passion for him and will insist on knowing all about his private life. And it's the 'private life' of mathematics that counts."

"By the fifth year, if the child is clever, he will be way up in higher mathematics."

These fine granules soak the dirt out of your clothes

YOU don't need to rub and scrub for hours over a washboard to get the bad spots out of the clothes. You don't need to boil all the white things to get rid of that dingy gray look.

Next Monday just soak the clothes clean.

Soak them overnight with Rinso, the new form of soap—in fine granules. These granules are so high in cleansing value that they loosen the dirt without any hard rubbing, without boiling. Only the worst spots need to be rubbed and those just lightly between your hands.

The ingredients of Rinso are of finer quality than were ever used before in a soap product for the family washing. There is nothing harsh to hurt the clothes, there is no solid soap to stick to them. In these pure suds they soak as safely as in water alone; for Rinso is so harmless it doesn't even redden your hands.

Rinso softens hard water. For hard water make an increased amount of the Rinso solution and continue adding it to your tub of cold water until you have a good rich suds.

Start using Rinso this next washday. Use it for the big things that are hard to handle, for the very dirty things that you have always had to rub hard. You will find Rinso as remarkable for the regular weekly washing as Lux is for silks, woolsens, and all fine fabrics.

Get Rinso from your grocer or any department store. One package is enough for your week's washing. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Youth Charged With Breaking and Entering Held for Superior Court

Seventeen-year-old Thomas Greenhaile, of Claire-street, charged with breaking and entering in the night time, and larceny, declared to Judge Enright in the police court today that Deputy Downey and Inspector Walsh were all wrong in testifying that he confessed to them. "They must be mistaken," he said. "I was telling them about Hickory making the break, not about myself." Ronald Hickory, 19, pleaded guilty yesterday to a similar charge, and was sent up to the superior court. "Hickory took me down to a pile of lumber the morning after the break was broken into," said the defendant, "and he pulled out some guns and cigars from underneath the board. He gave me some cigars, and then told me about how he robbed the store." Inspector Walsh and Deputy Downey had previously corroborated each other in the story that Greenhaile said he participated in the break, which was at the restaurant and confectionery store of Charles Thomas, near the No. Chelmsford line. The inspector told of Greenhaile saying he broke the glass of a window, undid a latch, and thus gained access to the establishment, in company with Hickory. One of Thomas' own baskets was used to carry the loot, which consisted of cigars, tobacco, cigars and gum. "They must have misunderstood me," was Greenhaile's sole response to these details. He added that Hickory told him of breaking into this place, and that he was simply de-laying the narration as it reached him. "Why did you run when Hickory was arrested?" he was asked. "I had some cigars," responded the defendant simply. "And I was afraid that I would be charged with receiving stolen property."

"This case is beyond my jurisdiction," said Judge Enright at the conclusion of the testimony. He ordered the defendant held in bonds of $500 for the superior court.

The case of Ernest A. Hamell, charged with larceny of $75 from Carl Buynowsky, was placed on file today in the police court, when it was stated that civil settlement had been made. The defendant paid the costs of the case. Edward McLaughlin, arrested on drunkenness charges by Officers P. Connolly, O'Connor and Conroy, was sent to the house of correction for one month. Manuel C. Carra paid a fine of $100 for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

REQUIREMENTS FOR HARVARD EXAMS
BOSTON, March 31.—An acquaintance with the Bible and with 12 plays of Shakespeare, will be necessary, hereafter, for students who concentrate in the ancient or modern languages at Harvard, including English, when they come up for their general examination for graduation at the end of their senior year. The announcement of the divisions of ancient and modern languages setting forth the requirements for the general examination says these are "two series of literature without which an adequate appreciation of English letters is impossible."

In addition, if a man specializes in any field of modern languages, he must be able to show an acquaintance with the important works of the ancient authors, and if he specializes in ancient languages, he must correspondingly know two modern authors. This requirement is based, says the announcement, "on the idea that the history of literature is continuous and that every well educated person should have a general acquaintance with the masterpieces of the great literatures."

INSPECTED LAND FOR DRILL GROUNDS
Major S. R. Hopkins, U.S.A., inspector for artillery for Massachusetts, visited Lowell yesterday for the purpose of inspecting drill ground facilities for Battery B.

With Mayor Thompson and Capt. MacBryne, the major saw several tracts of land which have been offered for this purpose. Under the law the city must furnish drill grounds for its troops, or pay a fine of $500 for each acre that is not met.

Major Hopkins selected one site which answered all the requirements for the artillery, location, condition of soil, area, nearness to railroad siding, etc. The other sites were classified as not meeting the requirements. Thirty-two horses are on their way to Lowell, the major said, and the battery would need its drill field right away.

The assignment of territory to the allied powers in Asia Minor, Africa, the Pacific and Polynesia are also shown. Altogether it is a very valuable book giving complete maps of all the countries in the world, showing the battlefields of the world and the chief lines of defense held by Germany. It has also a census of 1920 and in other respects is a thoroughly accurate and up-to-date work. It can be had at The Sun office by bringing in the coupon found on page 2 with 50 cents. AN HONEST BOY FOUND LOST WALLET

A boy named Daniel Hogan, residing at 329 Walker street, picked up a large pocketbook that had been dropped from a speeding auto on Westford street Sunday afternoon. He happened to be standing with other boys on the sidewalk near the point where the pocketbook was dropped. He thought he could attract the attention of the owner by calling after the auto but failed in rushing into the street to pick up the wallet. He had a narrow escape from being struck by another auto. He had some spectators examine the contents so that nobody could accuse him of taking any part thereof. There was a bank book, a sum of money and some minor articles. Dan, who is employed at The Sun office, located the owner on Porter street and was rewarded for his honesty.

GIRLS ORDERED TO STATE REFORMATORY

The legality of two arrests was questioned, an eloquent assertion of the rights of the poor was made, and other heated comments relative to the alleged conduct of local police force members were made today in the police court by Attorney Cornelius J. O'Neill, representing June F. Baker and Angelina Burgess, found guilty of improper conduct. Ordered to the Massachusetts reformatory for women, they appealed, and were held in $500 each for the superior court. Officer Conside, who said he didn't arrest the girls, but "brought them down to the station for a talk" with Officers Conney and Moore, was grilled by O'Neill, who demanded "what right you had to go into this lodging-house where these girls were, in the dead of night and without a warrant?" The officer, during his cross examination, said that Officers Conney and Moore actually arrested the defendants, after the conversation held at headquarters. Attorney O'Neill, while he offered no testimony in defense, indicated that he would charge false arrest when the case comes before the superior court. He questioned the legality of the case being heard at all before Judge Enright, and instanced the actions of Commissioner Hayes, of the federal judiciary, who, he said, has been discharged many people "falsely arrested, and has been backed up within a week by the supreme court." Judge Enright evinced an overmastering interest in the activities of the commissioner, and said he hadn't heard of the latter being "backed up" by the supreme court. He declared that he was going to hear the evidence in the present case, without giving his consideration to the matter of whether the two girls were legally or illegally taken into custody.

The impassioned references of Attorney O'Neill to the "legal axiom of a man's home being his castle, whether it be only a three-dollar room in a lodging-house, or a palace on Belvidere heights," were characterized as irrelevant by the honor, who stated that the arrest was a matter between the officer and the girls. Attorney O'Neill declared with emotion, at this point, that he "still maintained" his contention. Officer Conney testified that the girls had admitted a large number of improper acts. This statement was corroborated by Officer Moore.

Testimony of a witness to an alleged conversation between the defendants and Policewoman Skilton, that she did not think Miss Skilton warned the two girls of their rights, led to more protests by Attorney O'Neill, who allegorized failure to give such a warning as a "rank miscarriage of justice, I think." "You may think what you please," declared Judge Enright, who added that the court did not share the view. "It is good procedure to give such warnings," said his honor, who, however, stated that they are not obligatory. Attorney O'Neill wanted to know if the way of the policeman was to lay all his hands on girls as friends, and then use their statements against them? Judge Enright decisively nulled any notion of this sort, declaring that the policemen do not get statements while "imposing themselves as friends," but as officers of the law in performance of their duty. Shortly after these passages, the state rested its case, and Attorney O'Neill immediately added that the defense would rest without producing any witnesses or introducing any argument. Sentence to the reformatory was then imposed and appeal was taken by both defendants.

Ramey Case Given to Jury

CAMBRIDGE, March 31.—The case of Frank S. Ramey of Wakefield, charged with assaulting Miss Mildred Wanamaker at that place last October, with intent to kill her, was given to the jury at 1 p. m. today. The young woman who was struck down while on the way to the railroad station, carried into the underbrush and abandoned unconscious, testified during the trial that she did not see her assailant. Threats of Ramey against her were related by witnesses for the government. The defense presented an alibi, and suggested the possibility that the girl was knocked down by a passing team, and her body removed from the road to cover the accident.

To Limit Withdrawals of Liquor

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Regulations limiting withdrawals of liquor by retail druggists to 180 gallons each of spirits or wine for each quarter were issued today by the bureau of internal revenue. While intended to clarify previous orders, the new regulations were said to serve in a way as a relaxation of restrictions limiting withdrawals to five cases of all kinds of liquors under one permit. There was no determination of the number of such permits to be issued for any retail druggist, however. Officials said that where proof was given, a large quantity than the 200 gallon maximum might be withdrawn, but investigations of sales by the average retail druggist had convinced officials that the limit set was sufficient to meet average needs.

Responsibility for Disorders in Ireland Greatest Assemblage of Church Dignitaries Ever Placed Upon British Government by American Investigators

Massed on this Continent at Funeral of Cardinal Gibbons Today

REPORT MADE PUBLIC TODAY

British Army Guilty of Excesses Equal to Those Charged Against Germans

Innocent Men, Women and Children Proved to Have Been Killed and Tortured

Wanton Destruction of Factories and Cities Countenanced by Authorities

All Laws of Peace and War Violated by Crown Forces of 78,000 Men

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Moral responsibility for the present disorders in Ireland is placed upon the British government by the commission of the committee of one hundred investigating the Irish question in a 30,000-word report made public today and covering the examination of witnesses at public hearings held by the commission in Washington last November, December and January.

The report has been issued under the title of "The American Commission on Conditions in Ireland," which announces that it will continue the inquiry.

Declaring that the commission was "under the disadvantage of lacking the official British side of the case," except as it was gathered from documents presented to it, the report declares that "the Imperial British army in Ireland has been guilty of proved excesses, not incomparable in degree and kind with those alleged, by the Bryce report on Belgian atrocities, to have been committed by the Imperial German army." The Bryce commission, it is pointed out, was similarly handicapped.

Thirty-eight witnesses of alleged atrocities including 15 Irish, 18 American and two English citizens, testified before the commission. The commission admits that its report is ex parte in spite of its efforts to hear all sides. The testimony available, the report

City Must appropriate $6000 as Result of Depreciation in Securities

As a result of depreciation in Boston & Maine and Boston Elevated securities, the city of Lowell will have to appropriate within a few days $6000 to liquidate fully the $150,000 old high school bonds which mature tomorrow. The sinking fund commissioners have made known this fact to members of the city council and at next Tuesday's meeting there will probably be introduced an order appropriating $6000 from the general treasury to make up the deficit.

At the beginning of the year the council appropriated $21,000 to meet just such anticipated deficits in sinking funds and it was thought at that time

LIVELY CHASE

Hot Pursuit Ends in Arrest of Dracut Man

A wild pursuit of a horse and buggy by an automobile commanded by Officer Whalen, down Central street through the heart of the business district to Merrimack square, featured the arrest of a Dracut farmer, shortly before 3 p. m. this afternoon. The Dracut man was locked up at police headquarters, on charges of drunkenness. It is stated that he was proceeding along Central street, urging his horse to a furious pace, when Officer Whalen gave chase, preventing a seemingly inevitable catastrophe, for the man appeared to be almost helplessly intoxicated when he was taken into custody. Although apparently a fairly young man, he gave his age as 59 when booked.

FOUGHT FIRE AMONG CLOUDS

N. Y. Firemen Battle for Hour Before Subduing Blaze on 31st Floor

Forced to Crawl Along Window Ledges at Dizzy Heights—Reserves Called

NEW YORK, March 31.—Firemen fought among the clouds for more than an hour, early today, before subduing a dangerous blaze on the 31st floor of the towering Equitable building, in the heart of the downtown skyscraper district. It was one of the highest fires the firemen have ever been called upon to fight.

The blaze started in a broker's office and clouds of smoke poured through the upper stories and elevator shafts of the massive structure. The fire was under control before the building's 13,000 inhabitants arrived.

Firemen crawled along narrow window ledges at dizzy heights above the narrow streets in order to smash windows and push through the lines of hose. "Thousands of gallons of water poured down elevator shafts and into the corridors."

Police reserves were called out to control crowds on the Broadway side of the building.

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS

The house nevertheless passed the measure in concurrence with the senate.

FOR PAVING AND MACADAM

Commissioner Murphy Outlines His Program for the Present Season

Council Votes to Borrow $80,000 for Paving and $60,000 for Macadam

Program Includes Permanent Macadam Roadway in First Street

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy made known his paving and macadam program for the season of 1921 to members of the municipal council at their meeting this morning and following his statement the council voted to borrow $80,000 for paving and $60,000 for macadam. Included in the commissioner's macadamizing program is one item of especial interest, the laying of a permanent macadam roadway in First street proper from Simpson street to the Dracut line, replacing the present cinder road that has been a source of criticism by motorists for several years.

The laying of a macadam road along this stretch will insure a smooth thoroughfare demanding no repairs for at least five years, according to City Engineer Stephen Kearney. From Bridge

LAWRENCE BUILDING MECHANICS TO QUIT

LAWRENCE, March 31.—Indications are that practically all the three thousand building trade mechanics employed in greater Lawrence, will not report for work tomorrow because of the announcement of the master builders that a 20 per cent. cut in wages will go into effect tomorrow.

The master builders say that if the men stay out it will be a strike but officials of the unions contend that the enforcement of the cut means a lockout.

Secretary Eugene Lariviere, secretary of the building trades council discussing the situation said: "We have made no demands. We do not want a wage increase or a readjustment in hours or working conditions. We are satisfied but the master builders are not. If they cut wages 20 per cent. it will be a lockout."

LONDON, March 31.—(By Associated Press)—The coal miners began to leave the pits in various districts this afternoon in line with the decision of the union executive committee to call a strike at midnight tonight, because of the failure to settle the miners' wage demands. OPERA HOUSE

"Up in Mabel's Room," the big laugh success that is making merry at the Opera House this week in the hands of the Lowell Players, is playing to capacity audiences at every performance. The reason is quite apparent. First it's the play—a worth while farce comedy—and secondly its interpretation by a competent cast. You will laugh your fill when you see the capers of Mabel and the discomfiture they cause the young married man who had a past but tried to hide it from his wife.

BARRY SHOE COMPANY

PLANT NOT SOLD

The machinery and stock of the Barry Shoe Company in Market street is on the market. The company, which manufactured boys' and men's shoes, ceased operations several months ago or shortly after it moved into the new quarters in Market street, from the old plant in Stackpole street, which was purchased and is now occupied by the Sawyer Carriage company. Later an assignment was made, one of the assignees being George C. King of the Appleton National bank.

During the past few days there have been rumors to the effect that the plant had been sold, but this was denied by Mr. King, who admitted that the plant is on the market, but stated that as far as he knows, no transaction has yet been put through. Mr. King said the Barry Shoe company does not own the plant in which it operated, but had a lease on the building with an agreement to purchase it later.

For Paving and Macadam

street to Simpson street, the roadway is now in good condition.

A total of 8344 square yards of macadam will be laid on First street, extending for a distance of 4173 feet at a width of 18 feet.

Mr. Murphy's paving program contemplates improvements in Chelmsford, Thorndike, Appleton, Moody and King streets. In detail, the programs are as follows:

Paving

Chelmsford street, from Westford to the southern line of Grand street; 1000 square yards.

Thorndike street, from Congress to Appleton, 3763 square yards.

Appleton street, from Chelmsford to Moody street, 210 square yards.

Thorndike street, from Chelmsford to Middlesex, 200 square yards.

Moody street, from Spalding to Pawtucket, 2820 square yards.

King street, from Middlesex to Jackson street, 1000 square yards.

(This job is provisional on there being sufficient funds remaining after the other work is done.)

Westford street, bluminoous concrete from end of present pavement for a distance of 100 yards.

Gorham street, bituminous concrete from Moore street to railroad tracks.

Macadam

First street, from Simpson street to Dracut line, 4173 feet in length, 18 feet in width, 344 square yards.

Third street, from Bridge to Fremont street, 1558 feet in length, 36 feet in width, 6232 square yards.

St. Vernon street, from Broadway to Cross street, 220 feet in length, 36 feet in width, 580 square yards.

Fourth street, from Broadway to Varney, 635 feet in length, 33 feet in width, 2330 square yards.

Ludlum street, from Hildreth to Aiken, 456 feet in length, 28 feet in width, 3200 square yards.

Colburn street, from Lakeview avenue to West Sixth street, 1110 feet in length, 36 feet in width, 4440 square yards.

Osgood street, from Westford to Liberty, 388 feet in length, 20 feet in width, 1310 square yards.

Stevens street, from Westford to Pine, 702 feet in length, 34 feet in width, 2360 square yards.

Wilder street, from a point halfway between Broadway and Middlesex to Westford street, 1081 feet in length, 25 feet in width, 3370 square yards.

Eighteenth street, westerly from Beacon 300 feet in length, 25 feet in width, 932 square yards.

The total yardage of all the macadam work contemplated is 33,792 square yards and the commissioner estimates the cost at about $2 per square yard.

The paving program will amount to 16,933 square yards. Work will begin at once.

Commissioner Murphy said that he realized that many other streets in the city need attention but that only a limited amount of work could be done each year unless the city saw fit to ask the legislature for permission to borrow money outside the debt limit. He said that the sums asked this year for paving and macadam work were the same as those asked last year. Cement will cost a little more this year but paving blocks he thought would remain at about the same price.

Both orders, which had been duly advertised, were passed unanimously.

Members of the council were present when Mayor Thompson called to order at 10:07.

A communication from the license commission, by its clerk, John J. Flaherty, was read, giving notice of the recent enactment of a state law having to do with the licensing of taverns.

The act in question, provides that the license commission shall charge such fee, not exceeding $2 per year, as the city council may fix for lodging licensees.

If the council fixes no fee, none shall be charged. The act was effective February 23, and the license commission asked the council to take whatever action on the matter it deemed proper.

Mayor Thompson said that the letter of the commission put the burden wholly on the municipal council. He thought the license commission, being closely in touch with such matters, should make some definite recommendation as to what course of action it desired.

On motion of Commissioner Marchand it was voted to let the commission on the table with the understanding that the clerk of the commission shall appear before the council at its next meeting to give further information as to the wishes of the license board on the matter.

New Machine Authorized

Commissioner Donnelly was authorized to issue a regulation upon the purchasing agent for the purchase of seven passenger touring cars for the general use of the finance department. The cost not to exceed $2000, and that the 1915 model Buick car now in the department be traded in. Mayor Thompson voted against the authorization.

An order passed some time ago, giving permission to the Lowell Electric Light corporation to erect two poles in Mt. Washington street, was rescinded. The company has since introduced a new petition to have the poles placed on the opposite side of the street.

During the world war he was a flying instructor in the army air service. He was 27 years old.

Last Rites for Noted Prelate

ing his eulogy of the dead, there remained scarcely a dry eye among his hearers, whose memories went back to the kindly, gentle old man who led with power of spirit as well as power of mind.

Numberless priests, in a seemingly endless procession, filed into the church and in their stately robes of varied colors of their orders, moved forward to the catafalque on which rested the cardinal in his archbishop's vestments of purple.

In a few moments the body of the church was filled with this army of clergy.

There was harmony of color and sound, as the light of the candles around the bier fell on brilliant ceremonial robes and the auditorium echoed to the measured rhythm of chanted prayers.

The crowds which surrounded the cathedral remained through occasional showers which drenched the streets. So numerous were these mourners that the police had to rope off several streets.

The greatest assemblage of church dignitaries ever massed on this continent, gathered today for the funeral.

They came from the east and the west, from the north and the south, and from the Dominion across the border to mourn the prelate, the American, the man.

To the Cathedral of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, on the heights overlooking the city of the cardinal's birth, came also lay delegates representing Catholic organizations, diplomatic Washington Americans and the clergy united in their love for the dead churchman.

Special Gift from Vatican

They came for a ceremonial, unmatched in the ecclesiastical history of the United States, for in addition to all the honors that the church could confer on a servant old and tried, there was bestowed upon the dead a special gift from the Vatican.

The pope decreed that the Gregorian Choral society of St. Mary's seminary should sing at today's mass a solemn Gregorian chant previously heard only at the funeral of a pope in the Sistine chapel.

By 9 o'clock, an hour before the time set for the ceremony, streets surrounding the cathedral were so crowded with clergy and laity that not a square inch of open pavement could be seen. At ten o'clock the whole city, by gubernatorial and mayoral proclamation, was urged to drop every activity for a minute in respect to the man it had numbered.

Every motor, every street car, every wagon was directed to stop in its tracks when the clocks of the city tolled 10.

Impressive Spectacle

Early in the morning the clergy began forming in front of Calvary hall college, diagonally opposite the cathedral, for the procession. It was an impressive spectacle. Regular clergy in the colors of their respective orders headed the line, and behind them came the secular clergy, followed by the monsignori, Cardinals O'Connell and Begin, and Archbishop Glennon.

Inside the cathedral, under the gilded dome at the foot of the centre aisle, lay the body of the cardinal archbishop of Baltimore. He rested on a purple covered catafalque, dressed in his archbishop's robes, wearing on his head his archbishop's mitre and on one finger the ring that many thousands had kissed during his life. The rays of tall white candles lighted his benign features. At the foot of the bier was the cardinal's hat of red.

It was obvious that only a small part of the thousands who sought entry to the cathedral would be able to pass under the great portico with its tall columns draped in purple and black. Vest of the space was allotted.

AN IMPORTANT MEASURE

Opinion Requested As To
Constitutionality of Water
Power Development Bill

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, March 31.—An order requesting the opinion of the supreme court as to the constitutionality of the big water power development bill, which has been before the legislature for several years, was offered in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Leonard F. Hardy of Huntington.

The bill provides, in brief, that if an owner of any water power rights fails to develop them to their fullest extent, other owners may organize a corporation and take the rights away from the original owner. If such a corporation is not formed, or if in turn fails to make the proper development, then the state itself may take the property.

Senator Hardy's order, which was referred to the rules committee, was offered after each legislator had received from Edward F. Bragg, owner of a private water power, a letter in which the bill is bitterly denounced. In his letter, Mr. Bragg says:

"I wish to call your attention to House Bill No. 762, an act for creating reservoirs.

"This act confers on three private individuals, who can qualify by short temporary leases of three small water-power sawmills, the same great powers of eminent domain as were exercised in creating the Clinton reservoir for the metropolitan water supply. The creation of this reservoir destroyed mills, water powers, whole villages, churches and even cemeteries."

"The use of eminent domain in that case was proper, because it was done by public bodies for a great public necessity, and for the public good with no private profit."

"In this act there are none of these conditions. Instead of a public body we have three private citizens, who can easily qualify. Instead of public use, we have strictly private use. The improvement company is to dispose of the resulting power with no restrictions. It can easily dispose of it to themselves in the form of another corporation with no limit as to cost, price, or profit."

"Instead of public necessity, there is not even private necessity, for if real honest reservoirs are what is desired, there is every opportunity to make such reservoirs under our present mill acts."

"This act is an ideal instrument for the great hydro-electric interests, or other large combinations, to grab the water power of others whenever conditions are such as to show them a profit in doing so."

"If these great powers of eminent domain are to be used in creating reservoirs, they should be used by the state, which should employ experts to decide on the location and size of the reservoirs which would give the greatest uniformity of flow, and greatest amount of developed water power for each drainage basin."

"Private interests will never examine a drainage basin to find the best development of the whole basin. They will regard only their private interest and how their special location is affected. The waterpower of the state can never be properly developed in this individual, selfish, piecemeal fashion."

"If it should prove on investigation of any drainage basin that it would be profitable to create reservoirs for waterpower purposes, the state could do this with greater justice and impartiality for the whole basin, and assess the cost on the landowners in proportion to their benefits far better than any private person or group of persons would do it."

"State construction of these reservoirs would insure the highest efficiency in the use of the stored water, and enable the state to make sure that all the water power developed would be used within the state, for the building up of its own industries."

"At the present time large amounts of Massachusetts water power are being delivered and sold in Rhode Island. While this may be a very good thing for Rhode Island, it would be much better if our own natural resources were used in building up our own industries."

THE MODERN DANCE

The modern dance is just now coming in for some scathing denunciation that it has richly earned. The objections do not come from prudish whose tender sensibilities are in danger of being shocked by every departure from the conventional. Neither do they come from persons of Puritanical habits and ways of thought who would limit all human enjoyments to the few which they happen to approve. The criticisms are coming from sober-minded, reasonable and sensible people, and public journals, that have come to realize quite fully the evils of the decadent ball rooms where scenes that would almost shame the inhabitants of an African jungle are not of uncommon occurrence.

The modern dance has largely come to be little more than an appeal to the purely sensual. With its kiss waltzes and shimmyings, its aim seems to be to invite the breaking down of the natural and acquired restraints between the sexes. Its peculiar posturings are apparently purposely made suggestive. Its contortions and gyrations have the tone of beating of jazz music have nothing of beauty in them and would seem to be lacking in the elements of enjoyment.

We are perhaps not worse off, as regards modern dance manners and movements here in Lowell than elsewhere. In the records of the police court in Market street, however, is written a record that all who run may read, of some of the unhappy outcomes of attendance at some of the demoralizing entertainments of the kind that are nowadays common.

It is not natural that we should expect such results as these from the utter flinging to the winds of all restraints and decencies that protect young people in their association with each other. It could not be expected that any other tale would be told under the circumstances. It is a reminder to the better elements in the community that so little has been attempted or accomplished to bring the ball room back to the position that it should occupy as a place where healthful and harmless amusement may be found.

Let it not be understood that objection is in any way taken to dancing as a pastime. It is right and proper that young people should find enjoyment in that way. It is as natural and unobjectionable for them to dance as to sing. It is dances that have many indications of being the product of degenerate minds that are condemned.

ACTION OF CONGRESS AWAITED

The republican administration at Washington will doubtless rush through its tariff program as soon as possible after the opening of the special session on April 11. The tariff, however, never fails to bring up controversies between north and south, east and west, and conflicting interests, regardless of regional location.

The agricultural interests will want high protection as will the steel trust, the textile industries and many others; but owing to conditions in Europe, unless we permit a reasonable volume of imports, we cannot look to that quarter for the sale of our products. We have a big merchant marine and we must keep it busy carrying our products to foreign shores; but when our ships bring cargoes to foreign ports, they cannot return empty. There is here a big problem for congress and our future business conditions will depend very largely upon its proper solution.

The industries of the country are loudly calling for relief from the oppressive tax burdens and that question will probably be dealt with immediately after the tariff.

These are domestic questions and while they are being settled, the great international question of peace with Germany and a definite foreign policy will be pressing for settlement. But that will require time and most careful consideration. So much so, in fact, that the final settlement may not be reached before next fall. Meantime some resolution or order may be adopted to serve the purpose temporarily and remove whatever remains of war conditions.

In facing such momentous questions, President Harding will require the support and co-operation of all parties and should receive it as the interests of the country are at stake and should not be jeopardized by partisanship on either side.

DEATH PENALTY IN SLEEP

The state of Nevada has inaugurated something new in adopting a law under which persons convicted of capital punishment shall be put to death by lethal gas while asleep, so that they will neither feel any pain nor know the fatal moment.

Nevada legislators will find they have made a great mistake in robbing capital punishment of all its terrors. Better abolish the death penalty altogether than make a farce of it by the gas method applied during sleep.

Hereafter life imprisonment will be more dreaded than execution by the new method in that state. Moreover, prisoners serving life sentences are likely to commit murder in order to end it all through death by the gas method.

Formerly the death penalty by hanging and later by electrocution had some terrors for murderers and, therefore, had a deterrent effect; but as now carried out, though the victim be backed to a chair, shot through the brain or has a dagger driven through his heart, yet the perpetrator of the crime will be sentenced to death—painless death—and while confined in prison the guards will steal upon him while asleep, turn a flow of gas into his cell and thus the most brutal of murderers will be despatched painlessly without a tremor and without

PEONAGE PLUS MURDER

That is a shocking state of affairs revealed upon a Georgia plantation in which a number of negroes, possibly forty in all, were murdered by the owner of the plantation or by his foreman acting under his employer's orders.

The motive, it appears, was to remove the danger of their testifying against their employer who held them in a state of peonage.

This is a disgrace not only to the state of Georgia, but the United States, as emphasizing the fact that although the negroes are free under our American constitution, yet in the exercise of that freedom in some southern states, they labor under many disabilities.

Georgia is especially culpable in these matters as that state led all others in the number of lynchings in 1919, and in 1920 it had eight lynchings of a most brutal character.

The Ku Klux Klan, organized to maintain "white supremacy" in the south, is suspected of promoting the treatment of negroes; but if the tragic murder of colored men held in peonage at the Jasper county plantation, proves to be as bad as reported, it is probable that the government at Washington will be moved to adopt measures that will at least protect the negroes against such outrages as have been practised upon them on the Williams plantation in Georgia.

CUT THE PRICE OF GAS

Now that the prices of coal and raw materials generally have been reduced considerably, it would seem to be high time for the Lowell Gas company to reduce the price of gas, for which the consumers now pay $1.50 per 1000 cubic feet and will have to pay $1.60 after April 1.

The price of crude oil from which gasoline is made has dropped to about half what it has been and it is only moving on the down grade with commodities such as coal, gas, and other household essentials. For the present the company should be satisfied with $1.25, or at most $1.30, as the first step toward normal conditions under which the price may be reduced to one dollar per 1000 cubic feet.

FOR ARBITRATION

This is no time for strikes among building trades, or on railroads or elsewhere.

The Boston building trades have had a long battle against a reduction of wages; but they cannot expect to hold the war prices when the value of building materials is tumbling. It is quite probable that on the other hand the employers may be trying to squeeze them. There are two sides to the case and the conflicting claims should be submitted to arbitration. Strikes or lockouts under present conditions are simply ruinous.

FOR THE OAKLANDS

Commissioner Salmon is to be commended for taking up the matter of increased water volume in the Oakland. A larger main will help by increasing the volume, but it will not increase the pressure to any great extent, as that must come from the pressure of overhead volume in a reservoir or standpipe. It will improve conditions to have ample volume, but no stream can be got on a fire until the pumps get into action. What is true of the Oakland in this respect is equally true of the Highlands.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The period of daylight saving has been changed from seven to five months and will begin at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 24, and continue until 2 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 23. It is to be hoped that this will not inconvenience the farmers nor cause them to get their feet wet in the morning dew. Those who wish to have it sooner than the date fixed can practice early rising from this time forward.

"I shall name the baby William Oliver Robert Kennedy," she asserted. "But why all those names?" asked her husband. "Because," replied Mrs. Jinks tartly, "if you look at the initials you will find that they spell 'work,' so perhaps when baby grows up he will take to it better than his father."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The best first aid hospital in the state is claimed by the Hamilton manufacturing company of this city. And with reason. The casual visitor has only to glance at the shining enamel of dressing tables and instrument cases, to glimpse the appearance of efficiency which greets one at every turn, to readily agree that here is the model establishment of its kind. Scores of employees are patients here every day; for educational work has convinced them that even the slightest cut or other injury should receive the benefits of preventive medicinal science. A corps of skilled nurses is in attendance at all times. Not only accidents given first aid treatment, but colds, coughs, earaches, in fact, minor pains and ills of every description and relief here. A major injury, such as a broken bone, also gets attention which ease the sufferer until the arrival of a physician. The mill authorities welcome public inspection of the place, of which they are very proud, and rightly so.

IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY

lightly turns to thoughts of love," says Tennessee. For, in fact, this is a good time to tell the story of a man whom I ran across awhile ago who has a peculiar hobby. He is a crusty bachelor, no longer young. Years ago he started out to gather information on the subject of "kissing," and he has been at it ever since. He has a small library full of facts that he has gleaned from all over the world. Let him tell his own story. "Years ago," he says, "the newspapers had a lot to say about the kiss of a famous actress. I became interested to know why people kiss anyway. Uncivilized people rub noses as a mark of affection. Why should we touch lips? I have never been able to find out. It is a very ancient custom. The earliest recorded kiss was in the Bible. The Good Book tells us that Jacob kissed Rachel and lifted up his voice and wept. What did he weep for? Search me. The story of the most tragic kiss in history is also recorded in the Bible. It was Judah's kiss. There is a theory that the kiss originated with the early Roman fathers, who saluted their wives on the lips, after their absence from home, to detect whether they had been using wine. That theory presupposes a degree of sobriety on the part of the Roman fathers that is hardly believable. One of the prettiest tales in the history of kissing comes from France. Queen Margaret was passing through her palace one day with a party of her gentlemen, when she came into a room in which the poet Chaucer slept. He was a very ugly man, but the queen bent over and kissed him. When she was brought to look for her action, she said, 'I kissed not the man, I kissed the soul that sings.'

ERIN PROSPERS SAYS GEDDES

Business Depression and Sinn Fein Only Trouble and No Relief Needed

Appeal to America for Funds is Criticized as Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(By Associated Press).—Charitable organizations constituted on a strictly non-political basis in this country which desire to deal "in an impartial spirit with any case of Irish distress" will find no unnecessary difficulties in their way, the British embassy said in a communication on the subject made public last night.

The communication follows: "Widespread misapprehension appears to exist in regard to the necessity of raising funds from American sources for relief work in Ireland and it may consequently be helpful to persons genuinely anxious to engage in philanthropic work if they are made acquainted with the following facts: "Banking and trade statistics and tax returns show that Ireland as a whole has never been more prosperous than at the present time. Cases of unemployment exist as a result of the world-wide depression in trade, but this depression has been less severely felt in Ireland than in England owing to the fact that Ireland is largely an agricultural country. "Apart from these cases of genuine unemployment, common to all countries at the present moment, and apart from the unhappy but normal poverty of the slums of towns, every case of distress and destitution is directly due to the effects of the Sinn Fein rebellion. Steps have been taken to meet even these cases. "Millions of pounds have been available from money raised by taxation in the United Kingdom to build houses, to encourage land settlements and to promote employment schemes and the general work of reconstruction, but the counties and cities of Ireland which are Sinn Fein in sympathy refuse to accept this money and prefer to appeal to America for charity. "Were it not for this attitude, there is no case of distress affecting any individual or his property which could not be adequately met from British sources. Particularly it should be emphasized that there is no shortage of food in Ireland. "As regards the schemes on foot in this country to raise money for the relief of distress in Ireland, the Irish government, while not agreeing that there is any need for American charity in Ireland, will place no unnecessary difficulties in the way of any charitable organization, which is constituted on a strictly non-political basis and deals in an impartial spirit with any case of Irish distress brought before it."

Every home should have a copy of the People's Atlas and 1920 United States census. On sale at The Sun of 5c, only 25 cents with one Sun coupon.

Gains 35 Pounds-- Says New Secret Restored Energy

For Months a Physical Wreck—Says Gland Pills Brought Back Youthful Strength and Vitality

"I suffered a serious accident at the shop which knocked me out completely and left me in an awful state. My health broke down entirely. I went down to 115 pounds, my nerves were wrecked and I was left as weak as a cat. Nothing did me any good until I started taking these wonderful new animal gland pills. Now, thanks to this great remedy, my strength has been restored, my weight has increased 35 pounds, I can eat anything and I feel as vigorous as I did 15 years ago!"

This is the astonishing statement made by Mr. William H. Shirck of 237 North Walnut Street, Yorktown, Pa., who is one of the hundreds of people who have been restored to health by Glandex Compound, the remarkable new animal gland tonic.

"I was caught in the gear wheels of a machine," continued Mr. Shirck. "My clothes were torn off me and parts of my body were seriously lacerated. After I was healed up I found that my strength had deserted me. I tried everything, but nothing helped. Yes, a friend told me about Glandex Compound and of all the good it was doing everywhere, so I decided to try it.

"A few days later I was amazed at the wonderful improvement I was beginning to feel. It seemed to take right hold of me and build me up. I kept on taking it, my appetite came back and I could almost feel myself putting on weight. Just think, after my accident I weighed only 115 pounds—and today I weigh 150 pounds and am still gaining! I never felt better in all my life than I do right now.

"Would you believe that I've been on the street and met old friends of mine that I hadn't seen for some time—and they wouldn't recognize me! I looked so good! They wouldn't believe that any man could show such wonderful improvement in so short a time. Yes, a friend told me about Glandex Compound and of all the good it was doing everywhere, so I decided to try it.

ETHER GIVEN TO QUIET CHILDREN

WESTFIELD, March 31.—Ether is being used in the foreign section of the city by parents of school children to allay hunger and also to quiet them when they become too noisy, say pupils of the Fort Meadow school to physicians examining them.

The case has been reported to the state authorities.

One of the boys about 10 years of age who appeared to be under the influence of the drug was taken to the laboratory of Prof. Lewis B. Allen yesterday where a test revealed without question that the boy had been imbibing ether. The children say ether is placed on sugar and given them. It allays a keen appetite and makes only small amount of food necessary. Parents have also fed the sugar-saturated ether to their children in the evening hours when they became too noisy about the house. The effect was quickly apparent and the children became dull and soon retired. It was found on investigation that there were numerous cases of children who had been given this treatment. The adverse effect on their health has been apparent. Supt. Stiles sent a seven-year-old boy to a drug store here and the boy returned in a few minutes with a can of pure ether. There is no law against the sale of ether to minors. A small amount of the beverage produces a mild state of intoxication.

DR. NICHOLS IS HEAD OF M. I. T.

BOSTON, March 31.—The appointment of Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols as president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was confirmed at the meeting of the corporation held yesterday afternoon.

It is expected that Dr. Nichols will assume his duties on or about July 1. The date of his inauguration has not as yet been determined.

For the past year Dr. Nichols has been a director of Physical Science at the Nela Research Laboratory of the National Electric Lamp Association of Cleveland.

ROY ACCIDENTALLY HANGED

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 31.—Merle A. Enman, five years old, accidentally hanged himself by his mother's clothing, falling from the platform. The boy was dead when passersby to a drug store here and the boy returned in a few minutes with a can of pure ether. There is no law against the sale of ether to minors. A small amount of the beverage produces a mild state of intoxication.

Turkish Cavalry in Fight Against Greeks

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 31.—(By the Associated Press).—Turkish cavalry has entered the fight against the Greeks near Eski-Shehr, and is pursuing two Greek divisions near that city, says a report from Anatolia. The same report declares that a Greek division has been captured by the Turkish nationalists.

Record Rush of Immigration

BOSTON, March 31.—A record rush of immigration here during the first quarter of the year ending today, has taxed port facilities to the limit. More than 28,743 passengers have departed in Boston since Jan. 1. Most of the arrivals were bound originally for New York, but their steamers were diverted here because of congestion at that port.

Thrift Coal Club

Our coal club will start Friday, April 1st. We expect to make it a greater success than ever. This year it will be a great boon to many people to be able to pay for their coal supply in weekly payments. It is an easy way to get the coal bill all paid up, during the Spring and Summer months.

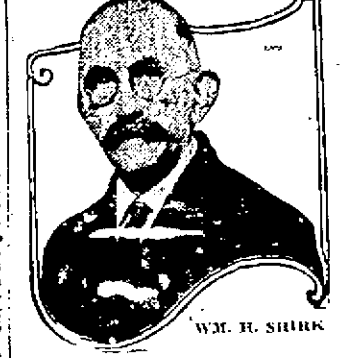

Save a little each week and deposit it at our office and we will give you a little booklet showing the payments. The more you pay in at the beginning the more you save on your coal, and you are sure of a supply when you need it.

Whatever is the price each month that will be the price to members of our club based on the amount paid in so that the average will probably be lower than the price of coal in the fall.

It's a good thrift plan. Try it, and we think you will be pleased. Come in and talk it over. Our new coal prices for Lowell will be announced soon and we think we will do a little better than the surrounding cities, considering the freight costs to the different points.

Austen Chamberlain Re-Elected

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 31.—Austen Chamberlain, who recently was elected leader of the house of commons, resigning the chancellorship of the exchequer and being appointed lord privy seal, was re-elected to parliament today from the west division of Birmingham. He was unopposed. The changes in his official status necessitated his seeking re-election.

HELD ENTERTAINMENT IN PARISH HOUSE

Gilbert's immortal Bab ballad, dealing of gentle Alice Brown and her fortunes, was depicted in a miniature melodrama at a clever entertainment held last evening in the parish house of All Souls church. Prior to the pleasant program which was produced, a caterpillar supper was served to the three hundred guests who taxed the capacity of the room. A group of young people, members of the congregation, then presented a vaudeville, divertissement of their own conception. Novel dances, Mother Goose characters brought to life, shadow pictures, and a burlesque of so-called "Oriental magic" were but a few of the many ingenious turns enjoyed by the audience. Mrs. Charles H. Nelson directed the serving of the supper, with the assistance of several young women members of the church. Mr. Gilmore of the Pop Marchie loaned scenery for the vaudeville, which was under the direction of Mrs. Howeth, Miss Harriett Coburn, Miss Edith Erskine, and Miss Josephine Ockington. The following young people became thespians for a night:

Elizabeth Fisher, Isabelle Anlot, Helen Anlot, Harriet Qua, Frederick Fisher, Helen Spaulding, Dorothy Taylor, Wallace Gray, Malcolm Stevens, Frances Mitchell, Marshall Qua, Barbara Brown, Frank Johnson, Henry Levy, Alice Erskine, Cyrus Woodman, Stephen Skaville, Katherine Goodell, Elizabeth Spaulding, Elizabeth Whitliff, Gwendolyn Bayon, Elizabeth Whitliff, Alice Chase, Eleanor Whitliff, Anita Ahlberg, Richard Chase, Eleanor Pitts, Celia Crowe, Herbert Chapman, William Taylor, Harry Boardman, and John Harvey.

SEEKS TO RECOVER FROM CLOSED BANK

BOSTON, March 31.—Edward S. Jenkins of East Providence, R. I., in a bill of complaint filed in the federal court here today, seeks recovery of $13,357, which he had on deposit at the Prudential Trust Co. when it was closed by Bank Commissioner Allen on Sept. 19 last. He contends that the company in fact was hopelessly insolvent when it accepted a deposit of $24,000 from him on Aug. 27, and that this constituted a fraud on him which would prevent legal title to the money passing to the company. Jenkins asks that the bank commissioner be prevented from transferring $233,767 from the commercial department of the bank to the savings department in connection with his readjustment of its affairs, on the ground that such a transfer might leave insufficient funds to pay his claim in full.

Attack Police Barracks
CORK, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—An attack today upon the police barracks at Ross Carbery County, Cork, resulted in serious casualties to the occupants. Fourteen of the police are missing and it is believed five were killed.

An official report of the affair says the attack was made by civilians at two o'clock this morning. The front wall of the barracks was blown in by explosives and bombs were thrown into the interior while a heavy rifle fire was maintained on the building. The police held the barracks until the room in which they were concentrated took fire, when a few escaped by an upper window.

that that amount would be sufficient. Now comes the news that $5000 additional will be needed.

The $31,000 already appropriated will, of course, come out of this year's tax levy as it was included in the annual budget. Ordinarily, the additional $5000 would also have to be figured in on the tax levy, but Mayor Thompson feels that there will be a sufficient surplus over the city's estimated revenue for the year to take care of this deficit and if he had his way, the money will be appropriated from the general treasury and then made up from revenues which were not figured when the budget was compiled.

The holders of the high school bonds, which were issued 30 years ago will, of course, get their money tomorrow the minute they present the bonds. The municipal council appropriated $150,000 last week to meet these bonds when they mature, April 1. The sinking fund commissioners will turn over to the city treasurer the greater part of the $150,000, but the deficit will have to be made up by the city. There is no way out of it. Furthermore, the blame can be placed on nobody in particular. The deficit is merely a result of market conditions.

IDENTIFY DRIVER OF "DEATH WAGON"

NEW YORK, March 31.—Identity of the driver of the "death wagon" in which was carried the destructive bomb which caused the Wall street explosion last September is known to agents of the department of justice. It was reported here last night. He has been "identified" as a well known anarchist through a clue furnished by the shoes of the horse which drew the death vehicle into the financial district.

While official confirmation of the report was unavailable here last night, in the absence of William J. Flynn, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, it is said, that circulars containing a detailed description and portraits of the man sought had been sent to certain police chiefs and postmasters throughout the country.

MAYOR PRESAGES $30 TAX RATE

A tax rate in the neighborhood of $30 is anticipated for Lowell this year by Mayor Thompson. He sees no reason why the rate should exceed that figure greatly. Although there have been no extensive building operations in Lowell in the past year, nevertheless, he feels that there have been enough, especially in some of the corporations, to warrant several million dollars' increase in valuation, which in turn, should operate to keep the tax rate from soaring greatly. Several large garages have been built in the past year and there have been other activities, which, while not extensive individually, nevertheless, taken in bulk will represent much additional taxable property. The present rate is $21.20 per $1000.

against the town of Fraserville and the province of Quebec.

The court proceedings came down from the old manor of Fraserville, which it is claimed, was originally owned by Count Francois Essoiron, a native of Brittany, who landed in Canada in the latter part of the seventeenth century. It is claimed by the complainants that shortly after his arrival in the Dominion the count took up government land rights and developed what is now known as Fraserville and for a great many years or up to the time of his death that he was the seignior of the manor, but that titles and deeds of his ownership disappeared after his death.

A few years ago activities were started to recover the lost documents and a notary lawyer of Quebec took it upon himself to locate the heirs and descendants of the late count and also to prove their rights to the manor with the result that one of the direct descendants of the nobleman was located in Nashua, and has a son living in this city. Court proceedings were started some time ago and it was learned this morning that the case which has been entered in the land court of Quebec, will open tomorrow.

UNINJURED IN 9000 FOOT FALL

ITHACA, N. Y., March 31.—Lieut. J. A. Macready of Dayton, O., chief test pilot of the United States army had a narrow escape from death yesterday, when a fighting pursuit plane which he was testing for the war department became disabled at a high altitude. He was making a descent from a height of about 9000 feet when one of the wings crumpled. By skilful maneuvering, the officer glided to earth, but in landing the plane overturned and was wrecked. The pilot, however, escaped with a few bruises.

BUILDING INSPECTOR GRANTS PERMITS

The Stevens Trust was granted a permit at the office of the building inspector today to change over the offices in the building at 22 Middle street, and to make general interior alterations. MOVE TO CUT WAGES OF 26,000

N. Y. Central Asks Authority of R. R. Labor Board to Make Reductions
Regarded as Opening Drive of Trunk Lines to Slash
Payrolls

CHICAGO, March 31.—Provisional reduction of the wages of approximately 26,000 unskilled workmen on the New York Central railroad, to be effective April 1st, was asked of the railroad labor board yesterday. Immediate relief from the present rates was sought pending a hearing on permanent reduction later, and at the same time announcement was made that conference with other classes of labor were in session this week and that reductions in every class of railway employees were being considered.

The unskilled labor dispute came before the board after conferences with employees early this month had failed to reach an agreement on any wage reduction. The case is the first one brought by a carrier and is considered in railroad circles as the first move on the part of the trunk lines to cut their payrolls.

The railroad appeared prepared to

Gave Up Hope and Was Discouraged, Says Worcester Man, Then Cinot Performed a Miracle, He Said

Mr. Alex. Giguier of 23 Washington Street, Worcester, Tells His Experience of How the Herbal Tonic CINOT Restored Him After Many Months of Torture—Truth Is Sometimes Stranger Than Fiction

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," says Mr. Giguier, "and I guess today I would have been the miserable invalid I was a short time ago if it had not been for my friend, Mr. Crawford, who advised me to buy CINOT and who advised me to try it. I did, as I would not be able to write my endorsement to CINOT if he had not."

"For many months I have suffered with what was called varicose veins, my legs would swell and the veins would stick out in knots and get as big as my finger and the pain was worse than torture; my right foot would swell and the pain would extend to the end of it. I had pains in my back and all the symptoms of kidney trouble. I was really so bad in the morning that I would hold on to the bed with one hand to support myself while I was putting on my clothes, and then it took me a half an hour and to bend was impossible."

and then came indigestion and gave on my stomach that would feel as if I had a tight band around my chest with terrible pain.

"I had bought all kinds of medicines and had all kinds of pill boxes and bottles in the house, but none of them had given me any relief and at this time came visions of my being a helpless cripple and I met Mr. Crawford and started trying CINOT. I bought a bottle and received but little relief, but Mr. Crawford told me to stick to it and I bought a second one, and then came the surprise of my life. I began to get well and kept on gaining until the pain in my back had disappeared and the veins became normal and the swelling left my feet and legs, the gas has left me and I can eat without distress. I work in the Steel Mill by the circus grounds and missed a car the other night and thought I would wait until another came, then decided to walk, and believe me I was delighted to find that I could walk any distance and walked all the way home which is a mile and a half, with no distress whatsoever and now walk back and forth each day and all of this on four bottles. I will be pleased to confirm this statement to any one who is in search of health."

Cinot is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Dows drug store, Merrimack square, and is for sale by all druggists everywhere.—Adv.

"OLD" ELKS GUESTS OF YOUNG HERD

Members of the Lowell lodge of Elks last evening celebrated their successful participation a year ago in the Salvation Army drive for funds when the members of the two teams from the lodge who solicited funds for the "Sal-lie" enjoyed an excellent banquet in the Elks rooms in Middle street. The toastmaster for the evening was Mr. Frank McArthur.

The younger men of the lodge were the hosts of the occasion and the older men the guests, this being the outcome of a wager made at the beginning of the drive when the former said that their team would raise more money than their "aged" brethren. They lost and last evening's supper was their payment of the bet. The affair was thoroughly enjoyable throughout. Mayor Perry D. Thompson spoke entertainingly and a group of young women entertainers from Boston helped to make the evening a merry one. Joseph McGilly of the local lodge and Miss Ethel Gordon, one of the visitors, got a big hand for their old-time step dancing feature.

Albert Edmund Brown led the Elks and their visitors in community singing and remarks were made by Past Grand Deputy John P. Farley and Michael Markham, captain of the winning team. John Campbell was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and John Mehan directed the serving. Harvey catered.

BUILDING AT STANDSTILL BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

Stagnation Due to High Costs, Inefficiency of Labor and Labor Waste

BOSTON, March 31.—Responsibility for stagnation in building in this city was charged to high costs of building material, inefficiency of labor and labor waste due to union working rules and conditions, in the report today of a special committee of the Boston chamber of commerce.

This special committee held public hearings daily from Jan. 31 to Feb. 11 of this year. The committee was organized to investigate the causes of stagnation in building in this city, whether organized or unorganized, and usually patent and were detailed during this investigation, the committee said. "The faults and failings of the employer, or the building interests, and the material and equipment men, are not so apparent, and your committee regrets to report that inasmuch as it was handicapped by lack of authority to subpoena witnesses, place them under oath—and surmount books and records, it has been unable to make findings substantiated by evidence of excessive profits, artificial price fixing or illegal combinations.

"Your committee finds that in the period of rising prices, the normal operation of the law of supply and demand was exaggerated and resulted in exorbitant and unjustifiable prices in many cases.

"It is extremely doubtful if there is any tendency toward permanent deflation in building material prices, or that the downward price movement is to be long continued. It is possible that an active building campaign in 1921 may cause a rise in prices early in the spring, but the great demand which some men look for this spring may fall short of expectations because the depressing influence of a business depression is so great that any large building program in 1921 seems hardly probable.

As an example bearing on the question of artificial price fixing, the committee referred to a printed card sent to the trade by a Boston firm on Jan. 11 announcing stabilization of prices for white lead, until July 1, and said there were in evidence "certain price lists called 'current retail prices of lumber, merchantable spruce,' printed on two pages, dated and apparently issued at frequent intervals without any marks of identification as to their source or place of origin."

"The material in building materials and equipment in this city are as high in most cases and in some cases higher than in the city of New York, where legislative investigation, has resulted in disclosures leading to criminal indictments for illegal combinations and price fixing," says the report.

"The committee finds that in 1920 the material men made a higher net profit than ever before in the history of the fact that they were doing business under the highest expense in their history.

"The average hourly rate of wages in 15 occupations of the building trades, was .96 cents in 1920 as compared with 50c in 1914, showing an increase of 92.2 per cent during the six year period.

"The inefficiency of labor," the report said, "arises largely from natural causes, demands all classes of labor in excess of the supply which sprang up during the war and continued thereafter. The condition was not peculiar to organized labor or to non-union labor. It was characteristic of almost everybody except the most patriotic and conscientious."

"The committee found that the production of labor at the end of 1920 was about 3-4 of what it was in 1920 times.

Sources and causes of labor waste, resulting from certain union working rules, practices customs and policies, also were referred to at length. The committee found a lack of apprentices, and said that each side blamed the other for the condition.

In conclusion it suggested the possibility of a better understanding of labor, now at odds with each other, might, at any time enter an agreement that would leave the public without proper consideration, and suggested that the public should have a voice in negotiations.

BOSTON OFFICER KILLED BY MEXICAN

BOSTON, March 31.—John P. Quinn, of Boynton street, Jamaica Plain, chief officer of the American steamer Thomas L. Ward, died in the civil hospital at Tampico, Mex., on March 15 as a result of revolver wounds received in a fight on board the vessel February 9.

The first intimation the dead man's family had of the shooting death was when a letter was received yesterday from Claude I. Dawson, American consul at Tampico.

The steamer had arrived at Tampico from Mobile. Soon after she made fast there was trouble among the crew. A Mexican policeman boarded the vessel and in the mixup which followed he shot the chief officer. The policeman was arrested, tried and acquitted, his defense being that he shot Quinn in self defense.

The burial took place the day after the chief officer's death.

Mr. Quinn was 35 years of age, and unmarried. The family will appeal to the state department for further details in regard to the shooting. They cannot understand why they should have been kept in ignorance of the agony for seven weeks.

PAWTECKVILLE SOCIAL CLUB An important meeting of the Pawteckville social club will be held this evening in the rooms of the organization in Moody street. A feature of the meeting will be the presence of Very Rev. E. J. Farnham, vicar of the Olathe order and superior of St. Joseph's parish, who will discuss informally with the members of the club the opening of the Jeanne d'Arc church, which it is expected will take place in the very near future. President Joseph Farnham will occupy the chair and it is expected the attendance will be large.

TESTIMONIAL BANQUET The testimonial banquet tendered the young woman who took part in the recent Y.M.C.A. minstrel show last evening, in the institute rooms in Blackpole street was a most successful affair. The supper was followed by general dancing. The Lydon Catering company had charge of the supper arrangements and the board of directors had charge of the affair generally.

STOCK MARKET DO-NOTHING CONGRESS

Last Congress Most Reactionary in History, Says A. F. of L. Committee

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The last congress was characterized as the "most reactionary of which the United States has been the victim," in a report by the legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor, made public today.

"It was a do-nothing congress except so far as reactionary results were concerned," the report said. "The entire program followed was to prevent the passage of any remedial legislation. In fact, any and every measure that had for its purpose the protection of the people, was either killed outright, died on the calendar, or was pigeon-holed by the committee."

Notwithstanding the number of bitter enemies of labor who were members of the 66th congress, the report said, friends of labor had succeeded in defeating a number of bills which would have endangered the interests of the workers and the people among them the Polindexter anti-strike measure.

TURKS CAPTURE GREEK DIVISION CONSTANTINOPLE, March 31. (By the Associated Press)—An entire Greek division has been captured by the Turks at Eskil-Shehr and the Greeks are fleeing from that city, according to notices posted at Anatolia. The Greeks thus far have made no statement on this report.

Greeks Report Gains ATHENS, March 30.—An official communication dated yesterday and made public today says: "The attack of the northern (Greek) army group continues furiously near the village of Arginin, where the Greeks are gaining inch by inch, using bayonets, bombs and machine guns. The centre has attacked the heights north of Tepin, driving out the enemy, which retreated southward.

"The right wing, debouching from the Karakent pass, has assaulted the heights between Bozehir and Kara-Agouch and occupied the line of Eghion-Kara Akouch.

"Prisoners have been taken in all the attacks. 871 Greeks were captured, including 200 cavalry laden with supplies. The enemy casualties have been heavy."

SEARCH AND SEIZURE MADE ILLEGALLY

BOSTON, March 31.—A number of persons charged with liquor law violations in cases where search and seizure were made without a warrant were discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Hayes on the ground that the seizures were made by deputy collectors who entered the premises to see if liquor liable to a tax was there.

Even though they held special appointments as deputy collectors of internal revenue, the ruling is their entry on the premises was illegal, goods in those places not being subject to seizure since "it is not to be supposed that congress intended to place a tax on something prohibited."

Many similar cases now pending will be decided by a similar ruling, it is believed.

LOWELL MEN ATTEND DINNER IN BOSTON

A number of Lowell men were present at a dinner last night in the Boston city club that was a feature of a district conference of New England Rotary clubs, which opened yesterday afternoon and is to end this afternoon.

The principal speaker at the dinner was Dr. Frank Crane, who gave a talk on "Work and Service." One of the guests was Peter Snedecor of Portland, Ore., president of the International Rotary club.

In the party from Lowell were included the following named: William Mitchell, Alvah Weaver, Fred Church, Jr., Theodore F. Hobson, C. D. A. Grasse, Dr. H. E. Davis, Abel D. Campbell, Walter Emmott, Ernest I. Scribner and Willard Parker.

PRECINCT VOTING

A special meeting of the voters of Dracut will be called early next month by the board of selectmen to take action on the precinct voting proposition for which plans have been made by the town officials, acting under instructions received at the last annual town meeting. Under present plans the town will be divided into four voting precincts: Collinsville, Navy Yard, Dracut Centre and Kenwood. The Collinsville precinct will comprise that section proper as far as the New Boston road at the home of Jesse Coburn, and northward of a line extending westward through Gerlie avenue. The Navy Yard precinct will include the section between the New Boston road and from Gerlie avenue to Hildreth street. New Boston Centre, Dracut Centre, Marsh Hill and East Dracut sections will make up the Dracut precinct. Kenwood will include all that immediate locality, including the matter of feasible the polling booths may be located in the various school houses of the town.

LOWELL CHARTER BILL PASSES SENATE

The Lowell charter bill, in slightly remodeled form, was passed to be engrossed by the state senate yesterday afternoon and was sent to the house of representatives. Action by the lower house is expected before the end of the week. If the bill becomes law a special election will be held in Lowell next October on the question of the acceptance or rejection of the proposed charter. If accepted, it will go into operation next January.

FALL RIVER TEAM WINS SAYS DARDEN LOOKS OVER LOWELL LIKE COMING CHAMP

FALL RIVER, March 31.—Fall River triumphed over Lowell here last night, 3 to 2. The combination of Joe Hart, formerly of Lowell, and Pierce was mainly responsible for the defeat of the Spalding City quintet. It was a close contest for the first two periods, with the locals holding the Lowell five by a 2-1 score. Then Hart and Pierce produced their magic polo and the Tigers netted five while the visitors were out yabla to shoot two bulls-eyes. The score:

FALL RIVER: Lowell, 2; Hart, 1; Pierce, 1; Quigley, 1; Morrison, 1; Conley, 1; Blount, 1. (First Period.)

Scored by: Pierce, Fall River, 2-10; Alexander, Lowell, 4-36.

POLO NOTES

Worcester here tomorrow night.

All the Cornell Lowell favorites, Hart, Doherty, Donnelly and Pierce, with "Hager" Higgins in charge, will be in the Worcester lineup.

Rob Hart, who was tendered a testimonial by Lowell friends and admirers the last time Worcester played here, will soon bring up his stick and shaves to get the mark and tempo of a baseball umpire in the National league. He is still playing great polo, hitting them as of old, and holds third place in the goal scoring column.

The Lowell "Colts" are out to move up a peg in the league standing and realize that the best and surest way to accomplish this is by defeating Worcester. They are determined to win tomorrow night. Worcester, however, is not anxious to wind up a fight before the winning claim to a fifth rung of the ladder.

ANNOUNCE DATE OF BIG FIGHT ON APRIL 9

NEW YORK, March 30.—The place, date and other details of the Dempsey-Carpenter heavyweight championship fight will be announced in this city on Saturday, April 9, Tex Rickard said today.

While not prepared to definitely designate the site of the contest at this time, he said he had finally decided to hold the match in the States and that all offers from points outside of this country have been rejected.

While the date of the contest has been semi-officially fixed for some time as Saturday, July 2, the place and the general conditions to govern the bout have never been authorized. Rickard said today that he had been in conference with Jack Kearns, representing Dempsey, and with the American representative of Carpenter and that all parties to the contract had agreed upon April 9 as the date for the disclosing of the site of the battle.

The announcement is taken as indicating that Rickard has virtually completed the necessary preliminaries incidental to staging the match within a reasonable radius of Greater New York. This has been his object from the beginning of negotiations, as he has maintained that a contest of this magnitude could not be staged with a reasonable chance of profit outside an area of large population.

INDOOR SKATING CHAMPIONSHIP

BOSTON, March 31.—Art Skiff of Pittsburgh and Everett Metcalf of St. Paul, will meet here tonight and tomorrow in the first of the indoor skating championship. The winner will go to Norway next winter to race Oscar Mathisen of Christiania for the outdoor title. Bobby McLean of Chicago, present indoor champion, although in this city, has refused to defend his title, saying he is not in condition.

Staff and McGowan will meet in the 225 and 350 yard and three mile events tonight and at 100 yards and one and two miles tomorrow night.

GLEASON ELECTED CAPTAIN

Fred Gleason, a member of the junior class at the high school, was elected captain of next season's basketball team at a meeting of the men of last year's squad at recess today. Gleason was one of the first-string men of the 1921 squad and played in practically every game.

F. C. BANCROFT DEAD

Former Business Manager of Cincinnati B. B. Club

CINCINNATI, March 31.—Frank C. Bancroft, former business manager of the Cincinnati baseball club, died here today, after an illness of several months. He had been business manager of the Cincinnati team since 1910.

Born in Lancaster, Mass., May 11, 1846, Bancroft enlisted in the Union army at the beginning of the Civil war, as a drummer boy, and served until peace was declared.

His first big success in baseball came in 1883, and 1884, when he was manager of the Providence team of the National league. In his second year there his team won the National league pennant and then played the famous Metropolitans of New York, winners of the championship of the old American association in the first world's series on record.

Providence won three straight games and became the first world's champions in baseball history.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

BOSTON, March 31.—Al Peiratt for the Boston Nationals' second team and Tim Townsend for the regulars, pitched such good ball yesterday that neither was able to score in the two seven inning games played at the Galveston training grounds, despatches today said. Peiratt, a recruit, allowed the Braves one hit and issued one pass. Townsend gave the Yankees six hits and walked two men but strong defense kept a score off the board.

BOSTON, March 31.—After losing two games to the Memphis team of the Southern association, the Boston Americans were in Jackson, Tenn., today where they were to line up against the second team in an exhibition game. The slump that has been clinging to the Sox has continued yesterday, and the Boston players were able to get only five hits off the minor league pitchers, according to reports received here.

Oscar Vitt, who lined his right foot, recently will be able to practice again in about a week.

NEW YORK, March 31.—"Goltie" Day, the New York Nationals' star infielder, who was in New York hospital for several days, has joined the team at Mobile, Ala., despatches say. He has recovered from a severe cold, but will be permitted to rest several days before resuming training.

NEW YORK, March 31.—"Babe" Ruth is still out of the play with the New York Yankees, suffering from a sprained wrist. Ruth Baker returned to regular work with the team in the game with Shreveport yesterday, and gathered a two base blow in the sixth inning that sent Bob Messel across with the winning run.

DETROIT, March 31.—Ty Cobb claims the distinction of working the first squeeze play of the season. It was made in the seventh inning of yesterday's game at Ranger Park, between the Tigers and the Columbus American association club, when Ty placed the ball to the left of the pitcher's box and played and caught. Much of the Tigers' training in attack, under their new manager, has been devoted to the sacrifice, squeeze and other tactics designed to produce a run in a pinch.

CHICAGO, March 31.—After two victories over the San Francisco, Pacific coast, league team, the Chicago Nationals today will tackle the Oakland club.

A round of heavy hitting in the eighth yesterday, gave the Cubs the game, 7 to 3, over the Cardinals, a recruit, holding the westerners well in hand for the first six innings.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The first real opposition faced by the White Sox on their training tour resulted in a 4 to 1 defeat yesterday from the Fort Worth, Texas, league team. Davenport, one of the best recruit prospects of the reformed and merged seven men, three in the first inning, was thereby beaten, although his speed puzzled the Lone Star batters, who gathered but six hits.

CLEVELAND, March 31.—In an effort to discourage gambling, Manager Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians will during the regular season, as had been his policy. Word to this effect was received from San Antonio, where the Indians are scheduled to play the San Antonio, Tex., team again today.

The announcement of the batter's will not be made until time for the game to start.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Lawrence A. A. baseball team will hold a meeting Friday night at the club rooms on North Street. The following players are requested to attend: A. Lowrey, George Souza, W. Davis, F. Baldwin, E. Gay, T. Campbell, J. Gleason, B. Ryan, A. Thyme, J. Silva, J. Avila, J. Booth, H. R. O'Malley, S. Orlan, and J. Carroll, or any other ball players who wish to try out with the team. Frank Sullivan, manager.

TATT GITS DECISION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 31.—Gladys Tate, light-weight champion of Canada, was given a shade verdict over Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee, in newspaper decisions in a 10-round boxing contest last night.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Many of the city's leading bowlers "lined" their names in the big tournament at the Crescent alleys yesterday and some good scores were put up. The handicap arrangement by Walter Jewett gives all bowlers an equal chance, and many of the new comers are bound to give the experts a battle.

Sullivan made the best picked three-string total at the Crescent alleys yesterday in the city handicaps. He rolled a total of 100. Mr. Horrie made 115 in three consecutive string and Panion was high man in single string endeavor, with 121. Aside from these figures, Monday's figures stand.

GORDON NIGHTENGALS CASE

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 31.—The question whether Gordon Nightengale, former New Hampshire college runner, will represent West Virginia in the Penn relay team, is being considered by the athletic council. He won the three mile international last year.

BOSTON, March 31.—Al Peiratt for the Boston Nationals' second team and Tim Townsend for the regulars, pitched such good ball yesterday that neither was able to score in the two seven inning games played at the Galveston training grounds, despatches today said. Peiratt, a recruit, allowed the Braves one hit and issued one pass. Townsend gave the Yankees six hits and walked two men but strong defense kept a score off the board.

BOSTON, March 31.—After losing two games to the Memphis team of the Southern association, the Boston Americans were in Jackson, Tenn., today where they were to line up against the second team in an exhibition game. The slump that has been clinging to the Sox has continued yesterday, and the Boston players were able to get only five hits off the minor league pitchers, according to reports received here.

Oscar Vitt, who lined his right foot, recently will be able to practice again in about a week.

NEW YORK, March 31.—"Goltie" Day, the New York Nationals' star infielder, who was in New York hospital for several days, has joined the team at Mobile, Ala., despatches say. He has recovered from a severe cold, but will be permitted to rest several days before resuming training.

NEW YORK, March 31.—"Babe" Ruth is still out of the play with the New York Yankees, suffering from a sprained wrist. Ruth Baker returned to regular work with the team in the game with Shreveport yesterday, and gathered a two base blow in the sixth inning that sent Bob Messel across with the winning run.

DETROIT, March 31.—Ty Cobb claims the distinction of working the first squeeze play of the season. It was made in the seventh inning of yesterday's game at Ranger Park, between the Tigers and the Columbus American association club, when Ty placed the ball to the left of the pitcher's box and played and caught. Much of the Tigers' training in attack, under their new manager, has been devoted to the sacrifice, squeeze and other tactics designed to produce a run in a pinch.

CHICAGO, March 31.—After two victories over the San Francisco, Pacific coast, league team, the Chicago Nationals today will tackle the Oakland club.

A round of heavy hitting in the eighth yesterday, gave the Cubs the game, 7 to 3, over the Cardinals, a recruit, holding the westerners well in hand for the first six innings.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The first real opposition faced by the White Sox on their training tour resulted in a 4 to 1 defeat yesterday from the Fort Worth, Texas, league team. Davenport, one of the best recruit prospects of the reformed and merged seven men, three in the first inning, was thereby beaten, although his speed puzzled the Lone Star batters, who gathered but six hits.

CLEVELAND, March 31.—In an effort to discourage gambling, Manager Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians will during the regular season, as had been his policy. Word to this effect was received from San Antonio, where the Indians are scheduled to play the San Antonio, Tex., team again today.

The announcement of the batter's will not be made until time for the game to start.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Many of the city's leading bowlers "lined" their names in the big tournament at the Crescent alleys yesterday and some good scores were put up. The handicap arrangement by Walter Jewett gives all bowlers an equal chance, and many of the new comers are bound to give the experts a battle.

Sullivan made the best picked three-string total at the Crescent alleys yesterday in the city handicaps. He rolled a total of 100. Mr. Horrie made 115 in three consecutive string and Panion was high man in single string endeavor, with 121. Aside from these figures, Monday's figures stand.

SAYS CHINESE MADE FIRST TIMEPIECES

The Chinese were the original inventors, many centuries ago, of an apparatus for measuring time, said A. S. Flint of Waltham in the course of an address on "Time and Its Effects on Everyday Life" in the 20th century educational course of lectures in Calvary Baptist church last night. The address was illustrated by stereopticon views. It was preceded by an organ recital by Edward Dilla.

The original Chinese timepieces were propelled by water, the speaker asserted. Later water was supplanted by weights and springs as propulsive power. Still later came the sun dials, but these were never widely used because they failed to be of service when the sun was not shining.

It was in the 15th century, the speaker continued, that pocket timepieces first came into use. Time-keeping was not considered their most important qualification. They were looked upon more as ornaments, and were often decorated with elaborate skill. In the early part of the 18th century the value of a watch was often judged by the amount of engraving placed on the works and the interior of the case.

The older English watches used chains for transmission purposes, and it was in this country in Waltham that the use of gears was brought to perfection.
